

James Parker = enthusiasm plus. What more could you want in this unpredictable, half-hearted day and age. It's a bonus that he actually knows what he's doing. James obviously has an extensive range of knowledge, skills and capabilities. Apart from being extremely knowledgeable, drawing on a plethora of ideas that could be adapted to suit a range of materials, themes and experiences; he is well organized and is able to manage a variety of situations.

James conducts himself with professionalism and sincerity. His communication skills are finely honed and he relates well to adults and children alike, adapting easily to a range of situations.

I thoroughly recommend James to provide positive, enriching arts experiences.

Yours sincerely
Libby Kelsh